

Money Bills Add Up To 5 Billion Deficit

Resignation Of Nourse Accepted

Washington, Oct. 19.—(AP)—President Truman today accepted the resignation of a government foe of deficit spending, while Congress wrote the last dollar mark on appropriations which added up to a possible $5,000,000,000 federal deficit.

Mr. Truman voiced "my thanks and my appreciation" to Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, retiring on Nov. 1 as chairman of the president's council of economic advisers.

His letter to "Dear Mr. Nourse" did not mention Nourse's criticism yesterday of the government's excursion into red ink spending. And Nourse said he didn't aim his criticism at the Truman administration alone.

Cries For Economy

But the flare-up raised some last-gasp cries for economy in Congress—even while the senate slipped into the foreign arms bill's pay boost for senators' staffs—and won House consent after an angry battle of words. The item, about $288,000, was minor in relation to the prospective $5,000,000,000 deficit.

Senator Harry Byrd (D-Va.), captain of the senate's anti-spending squad, put the red-ink figure even—$7,000,000,000 by next June 30, end of this fiscal year. If, he added, no big new appropriations are passed next session.

He called for new exertions to put Europe on its feet quickly so American taxpayers can stop "carrying the rest of the world on our backs."

Foreign Aid Unfinished

But in Philadelphia, economic co-operation administration Paul G. Hoffman predicted this country will have to go on spending $2,000,000,000 a year for foreign aid under the Marshall plan ends in mid-1952.

That doesn't mean the plan is failing, Hoffman said. "It is a special situation throughout the world" will require American support, he said.

The lobbies of the capitol buzzed with comment on yesterday's criticism of government spending uttered by Dr. Nourse.

Nourse said he was unhappy to "see government slipping back into deficits as a way of life."

He deplored also a farm program which "pays subsidies out of federal deficits," and had unkind words for some business preying policies and some union proposals to cut the hours of work—and production—while keeping pay scales up.

Reinstate Trainers Involved In Horse 'Doping' Charges

Chicago, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The Illinois Racing Board today reinstated four trainers who had been involved in horse "doping" charges and suspended two others.

Indefinitely suspended were owner-trainer Paul L. Kelley, Coral Gables, Fla., and his assistant, Allen P. Tipton. Wise Tiger, a horse in their care, was found to have been stimulated during the recent Hawthorne meeting.

Reinstated were trainers Leonard J. and Glenn Wilson, brothers involved in the Good Story case at Sportsman's Park last spring; trainer Rolfe Shepp, Columbus, O., suspended as a result of the main bet case during the Lincoln Fields meeting, and trainer Angelo Cillo, Chicago, set down during the 1948 Lincoln Fields meeting.

Leonard Wilson is from suburban Bellwood, Ill., while his brother is from Calhoun, Neb.

Chicago Transit Authority To Keep Its Higher Fares

Chicago, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The Chicago Transit Authority today won court permission to keep its higher fares in tact.

The Illinois appellate court granted a writ overruling a lower court decision. The lower decision, issued by Circuit Judge Elmer J. Schnackenberg, would have forced CTA to return to lower fares at midnight tonight.

CTA's new rate schedule requires 15 cents for rides on street cars and CTA buses; and 17 cents for elevated and subway trips. The appellate court order was issued on an emergency basis pending an complete hearing.

The original order was obtained by the Progressive party. The party attorney, Harry R. Booth, today sought an order requiring CTA to become the first woman to represent this nation abroad in its highest diplomatic rank.

Congress Okays High Level Crop Supports

Washington, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Congress today finally approved a high level crop price support bill, but without a cry of "Santa Claus" from some city members.

Before the House approved the measure 175 to 34, Rep. Fulton, a Republican from Pittsburgh, inquired pointedly if Saint Nick wasn't one of the authors. Rep. Coudert, another GOP member, said the 8,000,000 residents of New York City would be able to contain their enthusiasm. Coudert's district of Manhattan Island contains 298,995 people, none of them farmers.

Farm state members struck back hard. They said the bill would underwrite continued prosperity for all, and by no means represents a gouge at the city consumers.

"It is a bill to give America a stable economy," declared chairman

Cooley (D-NC) of the House Agriculture committee.

The bill went through the Senate 46 to 7, clearing away the last big obstacle to final adjournment of Congress.

Senator Ives (R-N.Y.) forced a roll call vote in the senate, crying that the bill would mean higher food prices for consumers and higher costs for taxpayers. Senator Saltonstall (R-Mass.) chimed in, saying that "the taxpayer and consumer is the forgotten man."

But the final vote showed that the opponents were in a tiny minority. All seven senators who voted against the bill were Republicans—Baldwin (Conn.), Bridges and Tobey (N.H.), Ives (N.Y.), Lodge and Saltonstall (Mass.) and Williams (Del.).

Congressional leaders predicted freely that President Truman would sign the bill.

Says Service Row Has Hurt America

'Copter Rescuers Save Downed Flier

Washington, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The navy said today that Lt. George I. Albers, marine corps pilot, (301 South Douglas St.) Springfield, Ill., was rescued after his fighter plane crashed while operating from the carrier Sicily.

The accident occurred Oct. 14 while the carrier was bound for Labrador to participate in cold weather exercises.

A helicopter plucked Albers out of the water within two minutes after his plane plunged into the rough Atlantic.

23 Minutes After Robbery, Holdup Men Are Arrested

Kenosha, Wis., Oct. 19.—(AP)—The driver braked and swerved to avoid the speeding auto headed straight toward him, but the other driver cut in the same direction and slammed, broadside, into the first car.

It wasn't an accident, it was Officer Larry Gierum's forceful way of halting the 1936 souped-up stock car carrying three holdup suspects.

Kenosha police got a call last night from a rural tavern north of the city that three armed men had looted the place of $250. Enroute to the scene, sheriff's men passed the stock car racer fitting the description of the getaway car.

They turned and pursued the auto and in a zig-zag race through Kenosha streets. The officers radioed Gierum in his squad car to intercept the fleeing men from the opposite direction.

On a straightaway south of the city Gierum's squad car bore straight down on the stock racer in the same lane with the sheriff's car right behind the fugitives. As the racer swerved to avoid Gierum, he spun his car into the fleeing auto.

Shaken but unhurt, the three men were in jail, charged with armed robbery 23 minutes after the holdup. They were identified as Ciro Gargano, 21, North Chicago, Ill.; Grant L. Dreiblas, 24, German Valley, Ill.; and Hugh H. Tarnowski, 25, Route 2, Waukegan, Ill.

Gierum was not hurt.

Wallgren Approved For Post On U.S. Power Commission

Washington, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The Senate approved today President Truman's second effort to give a top government post to his close friend and former Senate colleague, Mon C. Wallgren.

Over the bitter opposition of Senator Cain (R-Wash.), it voted 47 to 12 to confirm Mr. Truman's selection of Wallgren, former democratic governor of Washington, to membership on the Federal Power Commission.

With no opposition, the Senate also confirmed two other major nominations and a flock of minor ones as it cleared its calendar for an early adjournment. They included:

James M. Mead, former democratic senator from New York, to be a member of the Federal Trade Commission. Mead was nominated only yesterday, as was Wallgren.

Mrs. Eugenie Anderson of Red Wing, Minn., to be United States ambassador to Denmark. She thus becomes the first woman to represent this nation abroad in its highest diplomatic rank.

Bradley Tells Men To Halt Feud And Get On Job

Washington, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Five Star Gen. Omar N. Bradley told Congress today that the bitter row between armed services has done "infinite harm" to the national defense, and he cautioned against setting the stage for another Pearl Harbor.

Terse, the chairman of the joint chiefs of staff advised all of the nation's fighting men to forget their feuds and "get on with the job."

It is a very big job, he said, and very important.

Bradley had a sharp word, too, for "aspiring martyrs"—an obvious allusion to some navy critics and others who have leveled dramatic charges against the military high command.

"To be successful in a sacrifice he must be 100 per cent right," Bradley told a jam-packed hearing before the House Armed Services committee. "To be respected, a martyr must be completely unselfish in thought and motivation. His sacrifice must be for the good of the entire nation."

"Under such requirements," he said dryly, "I see few opportunities for martyrs in this defense controversy."

In solemn tones, Bradley declared that if there had been greater teamwork within the armed forces prior to the last war, the catastrophe of Pearl Harbor might never have happened.

And the lesson of Pearl Harbor, he said, should have taught all military men that our forces are all one team, in the game to win regardless of who carries the ball.

Carrying on the analogy in football terms, Bradley said:

"This is no time for 'Fancy Dances' who won't hit the line with all they have on every play, unless they can call the signals. Each player on this team—whether he shines in the spotlight of the backfield or eats dirt in the line—must be an All-American."

Calmly and gravely, like a professor lecturing a classroom, Bradley took up the various criticisms raised by the navy against strategy. He paid particular attention to the navy's belittlement of the B-36 bomber's performance and the effectiveness of long-range bombing attacks.

Box Score On How Truman's Program Fared

Washington, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Here is the box score showing how President Truman has fared to date on the multi-billion dollar "faw deal" program he asked at the start of this session of the 81st Congress:

Domestic Affairs
Taxes—Request for $4,000,000,000 tax hike ignored by both House and Senate. Repeal of federal levies on oleomargarine approved by House, but no action taken in Senate.

Housing—Long range program featuring construction of low-rent public housing units and slum clearance aids approved by Congress.

Estimate Dead In Floods In Guatemala Near 4,000

Guatemala, Guatemala, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The mounting toll of Guatemala's rainy season floods were officially estimated today at about 4,000 dead and at least $50,000,000 property damage.

Foreign Minister Gonzalez Arevalo announced the totals, on the basis of reports still far from complete, as Central American neighbors and the United States extended aid.

"As each additional report arrives," Arevalo said, "the disaster assumes greater proportions."

While he was talking to a reporter, he received word 1,000 homeless children have been collected in Escuintla, a town of 26,000 south of the capital. Their parents presumably are dead.

Coffee producers say at least 30 per cent of Guatemala's $33,000,000 coffee crop has been destroyed. Arevalo commented: "My estimate is from 30 to 50 per cent."

A rich grazing belt, from 20 to 40 miles wide, which stretches for more than 200 miles along the Pacific Coast was one of the sections hardest hit. The foreign minister said 600 cattle drowned on his ranch there and that many ranchers lost all their livestock.

Destruction of roads by the sweep of waters handicapped relief and rescue work. Many villages are entirely isolated. Arevalo said the country sorely needs transport planes and road equipment as well as food, medicines and clothing.

First Session Of 81st Congress Adjourns

Way Is Cleared For Expanding AEC Funds

Washington, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Congress cleared the way today for a fast start on the administration's plan to expand atom bomb making facilities and the supporting TVA power system at a cost of more than $300,000,000.

Reacting to the president's recent announcement of an atomic explosion in Russia, the lawmakers voted to relax curbs they placed only a few months ago on spending powers of the Atomic Energy commission.

The House, usually jealous of its hold on the federal pursestrings, eased its grip in this case without a single objection. Not one member raised his voice to oppose a Senate-approved measure relaxing the restrictions, and the bill went along to the White House for apparently certain signature.

Earlier this year, Congress decreed that the atomic commission could not start unbudgeted construction projects costing over $500,000 without first getting approval of three congressional committees.

These were the joint congressional atomic committee and House and Senate committees on appropriations.

Under the amendment rushed through today in the waning hours of this session, the commission can start construction of unbudgeted technical or production facilities if it satisfies the budget director that they are necessary for the national defense.

Without waiting for the spending curbs to be relaxed finally by Mr. Truman's signature of this measure, AEC and TVA officials outlined their plans to members of the House Appropriations committee.

Committee members said they gave a quick "go ahead" for the administration's plan to expedite the more than $300,000,000 program.

Yugo Says Russ Army Moving Up

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Yugoslavia's official press reported today Russia has moved red army troops into neighboring cominform countries as part of a "warmongering" campaign against Premier Marshal Tito's government.

The report was carried in a three-column article in Borba, the voice of the government, in the most specific accusation about Russian troop movements made public in this country.

Approach Border
The article declared that Russia has moved into Romania through Bucharest with some small units approaching the border toward Yugoslavia.

The article reported that cominform (communist international information bureau) countries, with Russian help, are strengthening their border guards and building trenches and bunkers all along their frontiers with Yugoslavia.

"All these military preparations are being followed by stronger warmongering propaganda in the frontier areas," Borba said.

In Bulgaria, Borba said "fortifications are being built" and war talk is being stepped up under the slogan of Macedonian "liberation."

Macedonia—now split up among Greece, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia—has been an historic explosive spot in the Balkans. Diplomatic circles have said that if trouble comes, it probably will begin in this area.

Borba said that in Albania "under the leadership of Soviet specialists," work on fortifications of frontiers is being carried out. It said that on the frontier the Albanian army has taken over the villages and banned civilian movement at night, the newspaper added that Albania also has set up special police units and increased its "warmongering propaganda campaign" against Yugoslavia.

New Law Bars Drinks On House

Waukegan, Wis., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Don't blame Joe if he don't pop no mo'.

The city council says a bartender can't set 'em up without breaking the law.

The new liquor and malt beverage law enacted by the council last night declares drinks on the house for bar patrons are an unethical practice. The point has been disputed for weeks.

International Affairs
Economic—Second year's installment on Marshall plan aid to Europe approved; reciprocal trade agreements program renewed without restrictions voted by last Congress; international wheat agreement ratified by Senate; export controls extended for two years; plan to finance development of backward areas of world with government-backed private investments not acted on by either house.

Displaced persons—Broadened program for entry of homeless Europeans into U. S. passed by House, but Senate deferred action until next January.

Global defense—The 20-year mutual aid treaty between 12 North Atlantic nations ratified by Senate; to help build up defenses of Atlantic pact members and other friendly nations united against communism was passed.

President Praises Its Work

Washington, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Congress adjourned tonight with a "well done" from President Truman and a Republican denunciation of "statism."

The House quit for the year at 6 p.m. (CST). The Senate wound up its affairs seven minutes later, at 7:10 p.m.

Barring an emergency requiring a special session, the men and women who make the laws won't be back in Washington until next January 3.

Before catching their planes and trains, they gave their final approval to a high-level farm price support bill and passed a $1,314,010,000 appropriation to arm friendly nations against communism.

91 Month Session
They had been in session nine and a half months. Much of the debate was acrimonious; some of the disputed questions were settled by thin margins.

But all in all, Mr. Truman pronounced their achievements good. He noted that they had tussled with momentous international and domestic problems through the willing heat of one of Washington's hottest summers.

"I am confident that the American people will agree that the results have been well worth while," the president said in identical letters to House Speaker Rayburn and to Vice President Barkley, presiding officer of the Senate.

Martin Hits 'Statism'
House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts, however, issued a statement saying that "the first session of the 81st Congress which has just adjourned will go down in history as the tree which bent before the gale of statism." That word has gained wide use among Republicans for what they say is a trend toward an all powerful federal government which attempts to regulate everything the citizens do.

"Mr. Truman's socialistic program must be stopped in the months ahead," Martin declared.

In the final minutes of the Senate session, Senator Morse (R-Ore.) accused his own party however of "fumbling the ball again" by attacking the so-called welfare state.

"The Democrats are getting across to the people," he said, "that only the Democrats are for the welfare of the people."

Morse said the American people are interested in the general welfare of the country.

Tucker Aide 'So Honest He Never Cheats At Golf'

Chicago, Oct. 19.—(AP)—A lawyer for one of Preston Tucker's associates being tried on mail fraud charges submitted this defense today:

His client is so honest he never even cheats at golf.

"I don't play golf myself," Atty. Albert Dilling told a federal court jury, "but I understand honest scoring of golf strokes is the best evidence of honesty."

Dilling said Walter Hagen, whom he called "Mr. Golf himself," will testify in support of the sporting record of Dilling's client, Robert Pierce of Canaan, Conn., former director and treasurer of the ill-fated Tucker corporation.

The lawyer made his statement at the opening of the second trial of Tucker, Pierce and six other men charged with mail fraud and securities and exchange commission rule violations in connection with promotion of Tucker's rear-engine automobile.

The first trial ended in a ruling of mistrial.

CHICAGO POLICE ASKED TO WATCH FOR CATTLE RUSTLERS AT YARDS

Chicago, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Chicago police have been asked to keep their six-shooters ready for some suspected cattle rustlers.

St. Russell Parish, of the Marshall, Ill., police in Clark county wired the request up to Chicago headquarters. The Chicagoans are to keep an eye peeled for five steers and four cows which were stolen from a farm near Marshall Sept. 27.

Parish said he thought they might be marketed in the Chicago stockyards.

MAJOR INVESTIGATIONS OUGHT TO BE DEVOID OF POLITICAL GERMS

The United States ought to find a way to conduct major investigations on a level of impartiality and objectivity that will assure respectful attention to the results by all sides in a dispute.

With rare exceptions, Congress is the chief investigative body in this country. The power to delve into problems and controversies of all kinds is rightfully recognized as essential to a sound program of lawmaking.

But Congress, as we know, is seldom free from partisan interests in any of its operations. Usually when an inquiry turns out to be reasonably well balanced, it is because there was a balance of political forces on the investigating committee.

This, however, is not something the nation can count upon. Too often a congressional probe degenerates into a wild political wrangle in which truth becomes lost in the shuffle.

Frequently on the flimsiest pretext, the names of innocent individuals—prominent or otherwise—are dragged through the mud. Method of inquiry so easily subject to abuse is not one calculated to serve the country's interests when matters of high policy are at stake. In such issues decisions probably should be taken outside the arena of partisan brawling.

Great Britain and our northern neighbor Canada, provide examples of how this might be done. In those countries, when a question of paramount importance arises, a royal commission may be appointed by the executive authority. The commission is a civilian group drawn from all walks.

Because these commissions are detached from the problems they study, because they have no axe to grind, their findings are received with the utmost regard. That does not mean their conclusions are above criticism, but simply that no one seriously questions the commission's aim in fastening on the real truth.

It was such an agency in Canada which investigated Russian spy activity shortly after World War II. Without fanfare, the commission dug exhaustively into the confused situation. When its findings were made public, the people believed guilty of espionage were indicted and tried—many going to prison. The names of innocent persons touched by the inquiry were never revealed.

Contrast that performance with the irresponsible smearing and the patently political jousting of the House Un-American Activities Committee in recent years. Its achievements have been relatively minor, but the damage it has done to innocent citizens has been great.

The United States almost inevitably would have had a much clearer picture of Soviet espionage and subversive doings in this country had a civilian commission done the job.

The same approach might wisely be tried now in the bitter dispute between the Navy and Air Force over their respective roles in defense.

Congressional committees have largely disqualified themselves for an objective study of the controversy, because too many of the lawmakers involved have well-advertised prejudices in favor of one or the other service.

There would be no better time to gauge the worth of the independent investigating commission than in this quarrel that is doing so much to weaken the prestige and morale of our armed forces.

Boyle's Column

If Flies Walked, And Horses Had Wings

New York — (AP) — Sayings of a sidewalk sociologist:
Nature keeps a nice balance. For every woman who rocks a cradle there's another one growing up to rob it.

A fellow who feathers a love nest usually ends up a plucked chicken.

Small mind, big bellyache.

No man really appreciates his father until he has had a son himself.

The common man's greatest solace is being married to an uncommon woman.

A hen-pecked husband can't see matrimony for the acrimony.

Where food is free, liberty isn't.

Sell yourself down the river—and you're bound to end up at sea.

The only thing that holds more frustrated hopes than the average man is the average slot machine.

A cynic is a man who buys a repeating rifle to commit suicide.

Everything depends on how you look at it. The stars that light our night may be — the angels only dewdrops on the city dump of heaven.

(Eds note: Boyle used to write poetry in college.)

Burning coal is only a forgotten tree remembering the sun.

(Eds note: Oops, he's back in college again.)

Don't smile always. Remember, rain gets more attention when it turns into hailstones.

A private who becomes a general never forgets one thing—he doesn't want to be a private again.

The bigot agrees there are two sides to every question—his side and the wrong side.

A gent with water on the brain is sure to spill his mind.

Why should man boast because he can make butter out of coal? Cows have been making milk out of grass for years without bragging.

When a man quits drinking because he is afraid of getting out of line, he usually sits right down and starts eating himself out of shape.

Safety driving rule: "One wrong gander can make you a gone goose."

It's no fun being a go-getter if the only rest you get is on a psychiatrist's couch.

The biggest mistake men ever made was in abandoning the theory that work is for women and children.

The idealist puts a woman on a pedestal—and the practical man comes right along with a ladder.

Dr. Paul Burt Is Chapel Speaker

Dr. Paul Burt, director of the Wesley Foundation at the University of Illinois, and minister of Trinity Methodist church there, addressed MacMurray College students Tuesday at chapel services.

After describing the dream of Joseph, son of Jacob, Dr. Burt discussed modern dreams which he said "are in everyone of us." The speaker advised his audience to "keep forever the dream that everyone of us can do something, and the capacity to dream that will bring us through to the building of character. That is the way God speaks to us and sustains us."

The college choir furnished music during the chapel service.

Tells Police He's Sorry He Killed His Foster Mother

St. Louis, Oct. 19.—(P)—A runaway Ohio youth told officers today his foster mother was "the sweetest person on earth." He added: "I feel pretty rotten about killing her."

The boy is James Nairy, 18. He was being held at nearby Clayton pending the arrival of Ohio authorities.

They sent out a pickup order for him yesterday after his foster mother was shot to death near her home at Fairview Park, a suburb of Cleveland.

Nairy told arresting officers he killed her because he figured "she wouldn't let him have the car to visit a girl in Texas."

No, he said, he hadn't actually asked her for the auto.

"I came up behind her and hit her with the butt of my pistol," Nairy related. She cried out: "what are you doing?" Then she wrestled with me on the floor.

"She got up and started running out of the back door to a neighbor's house. I just started shooting. I think I emptied the gun at her. She fell in the yard and I got in the car and started for Texas."

Strikers Losing $67,000,000 In Wages Each Week

Pittsburgh, Oct. 19.—(P)—An estimated $67,000,000 is going down the drain each week in lost wages during the big steel, coal and aluminum strikes idling approximately a million.

Since September 19 when the coal strike started, the work stoppages have cost about $196,000,000 in lost pay.

The total is expected to jump rapidly next week. Many allied industries will then run out of fuel and raw material.

The strikes are costing the nation 1,400,000 tons of steel a week, 11,000,000 tons of soft coal and 7,750 tons of aluminum.

Some of the production can be regained after the strikes end if mills and mines work at full speed to catch up. But the wages are lost forever.

The loss means a slump in business for almost everyone from grocers to bankers, crippling the nation's economy.

What It Means: Nehru's Success In India

BY SIGRID ARNE
AP Newfeatures Writer

Washington—For many reasons India's handsome prime minister Jawaharlal Nehru, is being received in Washington with more than the usual interest and curiosity accorded foreign leaders.

Rich, educated, chosen by Gandhi to lead his nation, he has been conspicuously successful in keeping the general Far Eastern chaos from his own soil. How does he do it?

The story of the rioting in the Punjab in the late summer of 1947 is probably the sharpest case in point. This is on the information Associated Press chief in India at G. Milton Kelly, who was the time.

The Punjab is a northern province that lies athwart the lines now drawn between India and Pakistan, the two nations set up when the British got out. India is predominantly Hindu; and Pakistan, Moslem. The religious differences among the unlettered of both nations is bitter.

Right after independence day, Aug. 15, 1947, when the two nations were separated, rioting broke out in the Punjab. Reports were too brief for Kelly, who was in Delhi, so he set out for the fighting area. He brought out pictures to prove what he found. He saw death and destruction. He remembers babies, cut in two, lying by the road; whole families cut down in their homes; buildings so wrecked that streets were heaps of rubble.

Kelly estimated that some half million lost their lives in that rioting, although he says there will never be any way to know the death toll. To add to confusion, Hindus in the Moslem areas trekked home to their own kind. Moslems did the same. Kelly says perhaps nine million people migrated that autumn; just picked up what they could carry and walked. No one will know that figure, for sure, either.

The result for Nehru was huge refugee camps in India. Kelly saw camps with 40,000 to 50,000 people "hungry and living in incredible filth." It seems the Hindus were prevented by their religious practices from cleaning up their own filth. So they lived in it. Miraculously, no epidemics occurred, although untold numbers died of disease.

But there was danger beyond disease. The Communists moved in. They disdained to talk to crowds, but they did appear to go after leaders. Kelly sat in on one such talk in a small military shelter. The group included a Hindu Communist, a Moslem Army officer, a Japanese radio commentator, and two Hindu newspapermen. The Communist told them that "in Communism there is no room for communal fighting."

That sounds like gibberish here. But he was saying that different religious groups would never be forced to live together. At the time Gandhi was trying to prevent Hindu and Moslem from separating.

Also at that time the Communists had infiltrated into Indian communications: telephone, telegraph, trucking and railroads. They could have paralyzed the country. Nehru faced that when he had to move into the Punjab to bring about order. He moved anyway. He sent in some military. He sent in housing materials to throw up little "bushes" for the refugees—wooden huts, many with thatched roofs. He sent in food.

Luck was on his side. Once the migration had separated most of the Moslems and Hindus, the bitterness died down. Gandhi's death finally stopped the rioting.

Nehru again had comparative peace in his newly free land, and the

Teachers' Circle Has New Members

Reports were given from the book "Visual Aids" by Emma Hembrough, Lucille Jones, Marguerite Loneragan, and Ruth Hoagland.

Following the business meeting movies were shown by Earl Hembrough. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

An address of welcome was delivered by Dr. Elynn Richardson of Corps 91 and the response was given by Department Inspector Ruth Fleming.

The election of district officers took place at the morning session. Reports were submitted by the corps of the district including John Woods No. 47 of Quincy; John McCutcher No. 91 of Barry; Matt Starr No. 109 of Jacksonville; Dick Gilmore No. 294 of Pittsfield.

Contest To Change Name Of 'Jazz' Is Ended In Failure

Chicago, Oct. 19.—(P)—Nearly 1,000 music fans have ideas about words to take the place of "Jazz" — but despite their efforts, Jazz is here to stay, semantically at least.

That's the report from Down Beat, National Music magazine, which just concluded a contest to pick a new word for Jazz. More than 900 entries were received, ranging from "Ad Lib" to "Zaz" (Jazz spelled backward). But none was deemed likely to supplant the old term for syncopated music, although "Jazz" means many different things to different people.

Some of the entrants tried to encompass in one word all types of music which have gone under the name of Jazz. Some even incorporated words which never meant Jazz to anyone.

For instance, how about "Pocowitobobop" as a catchy substitute? It was suggested by a contestant who combined syllables from Polkas, cowboy music, swing, torch songs, boogie, wobble and bop to cover what Jazz meant to him.

Thank You, Mr. & Mrs. N. M. Davies of Congers, New York

We're Sure That Millions of Farmers and Consumers Feel Just as You Do!

One of the wonderful things about Americans is their great sense of fair play.

Ever since the anti-trust lawyers announced their intention of putting A&P out of business, tremendous numbers of people like Mr. & Mrs. N. M. Davies of Congers, New York, have deluged us with letters, wires and phone calls.

These people are telling us, as Mr. & Mrs. Davies do in the following letter, why they like A&P and why they don't want to see this company destroyed.

The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co.,
New York City, New York

Gentlemen:

We have been distressed by the possibility that the A. and P. stores, because of unfair accusations, may cease to exist. I wonder if you will see that our letter reaches the proper source, if there is one.

We are farmers, as you know, and not only sell our products, but buy necessary food from local A. and P. stores. We deliver farm produce, daily, to approximately eighteen stores in nearby villages. This includes two A. and P. markets, whose managers very wisely buy on-the-spot, thus saving deterioration due to excess handling, transportation and longer time from the farm to store. Our price to sixteen stores is the same as we get from the two A. and P. stores.

We wondered whether the low prices we see all the time in A. and P. stores might mean that sales people were underpaid. Evidently not, for we have noticed that the same employees stay on year after year, and we know high-school students in our town who have started at the bottom with A. and P. and risen to responsible positions.

Then what is this all about, if the consumers, the salespeople, those who manufacture your brands, the truckmen, the laborers and the farmers are ALL satisfied?

We believe the answer is simple. The A. and P. has developed an organization whose efficiency should be an example to all stores handling food. If this were so, independent grocers could well expect larger profits. The solution is not in destroying something that has taken years to build, but in encouraging all merchants to still further improve the efficiency of their operations.

Very sincerely,
Niles M. Davies
Eileen Davies

For 90 years this company has tried to build a sound business on the basis of giving consumers more good food for their money and giving farmers better markets for their products.

It is heartening to know that the public approves of the job we have done . . . to know that our policy of fair, honest dealing has won us the friendship of millions of consumers and farmers.

We will always be grateful to all our good friends who have offered us their help.

We are proud to live in a country where such things can happen.

Public Library Notes

"The Yankees," a pictorial history of baseball's greatest club, by John Durant was placed on the Public Library shelves during the week of the World Series.

Two new books for the fishermen are "Fresh water fishing" by Arthur Carhart and "Blazed trails for anglers" by Bert Clafin who has fished the waters, both fresh and salt, of over 40 states and Canada.

"The Coral Sea" by Alon Villiers is a vivid history of these waters by an author who has spent most of his life on the sea.

In "Flight into History, the Wright Brothers and the Air Age," Elsbeth Freudenenthal has told an exciting story while endeavoring to evaluate the contribution made by the famous brothers.

Stewart Holbrook has told "The Story of American Railroads" bringing together the results of careful research and an interesting collection of pictures showing a century of transportation progress. An institution closely related to the railroads is presented by Edward Hungerford in "Wells Fargo, Advancing the American Frontier."

And finally, "Here's Hazel" by Ted Key will be good for many a laugh.

NO HOME FOR ITALIAN COIN COLLECTION

Rome — (P) — The Italian Ministry of Education has inherited one of the world's most valuable collections of coins, but says it cannot find a home for it. It is the 120,000-piece collection of the late King Victor Emmanuel III, who left it behind when he abdicated in 1944. He began collecting coins when he was a boy, and became a leading authority on numismatics.

Right now it is closed up in 23 steel cabinets and 12 cases in the cellars of the Quirinale, former royal palace and home of the Popes which is now occupied by the president of Italy.

Frisco Ball-Carrier Hailed Best In Nation

San Francisco, Oct. 19.—(P)—Ollie Matson, six-foot-two, 207-pound, fast, sure-footed, is being hailed hereabouts as the best college running back in the nation.

In five football games, the 19-year-old University of San Francisco sophomore, who chased Herb McKenley to a 440-yard record in Berkeley in 1947, has gone for touchdowns runs of 90, 30, 60, 15, 60 and 80 yards. Five of the runs were made when his team was tied or behind.

He's packed the ball 500 yards in 77 tries for a 6.4 average. Counting pass receptions and kick returns, Matson has a total of 1,068 yards.

In addition, he has averaged 53 minutes per game—a good portion of it on defense. He's a sure-fire tackler and an outstanding pass defender.

Jack Onslow Will Stay As Manager Of Chicago Sox

Chicago, Oct. 19.—(P)—Jack Onslow, who piloted the Chicago White Sox to sixth place in the American league race last season, will manage the club through 1950.

Charles A. Comiskey, II, vice president of the club, today made this announcement, sparking rumors that the 61-year-old Onslow would be replaced even though his contract had another year to run.

Comiskey, in a prepared statement, said:

"After due deliberation Frank Lane, (general manager of the White Sox) and I are in agreement that Jack Onslow will be retained to fulfill his contract to manage the White Sox for 1950."

Decision to retain Onslow means that Mrs. Grace Comiskey, president of the club, and widow of the late J. Louis Comiskey, is again taking a more active part in the team's affairs.

Mrs. Comiskey has favored Onslow through most of his feuding with Frank C. Lane, Sox general manager, last season.

Still At Prison 23 Years After Term Had Been Served

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 19.—(P)—Back in 1921, when Joe Sullivan finished a 30-day term in Albany county jail on a charge of public intoxication, he asked the warden if he could stay a while longer.

Sullivan, now 65 years old, still doesn't want to leave, Warden Rensselaer Taylor said today.

Sullivan works during the day in the jail kitchen. He isn't paid, but contributions from the prisoners keep him in tobacco.

At night, he is locked up with the prisoners.

Taylor said Sullivan could leave anytime, "but he doesn't like the outside."

Police Will Play 'Cops 'N' Robbers' In Maryland Town

Hagerstown, Md., Oct. 19.—(P)—There's going to be a bank robbery here Saturday afternoon.

The cops are going to pull it. More cops are going to chase them—catch them, they hope.

It's a scheme cooked up by city and state police to show how efficient they are.

The bandits will have the advantage of surprise; no one knows which bank nor just what time Saturday afternoon.

The cops will be loaded: riot guns, tear gas, finger-print experts, a plane, fast patrol cars, and two-way radio between ground and air.

Wouldn't it be funny if there was a real bank robbery Saturday afternoon?

Eva Braun's Money Will Aid Victims

Munich, Germany, Oct. 19.—(P)—All property of Eva Braun, Hitler's mistress, will be confiscated to aid victims of Nazi persecution.

A German denazification court of appeals confirmed this sentence last night. It also upheld her classification as a Nazi supporter by a denazification court.

The handsome blonde who married Hitler a few hours before their reputed suicide in the Berlin reichschancellery left a bank account of $100,000 and jewelry.

Alonzo Stagg Remembers Days Of One-Platoon

Selinsgrove, Pa., Oct. 19.—(P)—"It's not the same game," Alonzo Stagg said today as he looked back 60 years of coaching college football.

"The platoon business of today was unheard of in early days," Stagg, 60, said as he looked back at the 1914 celebration Saturday honoring the 87-year-old "grand old man of football."

"We just didn't have the men," Stagg said. "If a fellow had a position on the team, he was expected to fill the job and had no business getting hurt."

The Stagg day celebration will include a torch-light parade Friday night through vine-covered Susquehanna's campus. Hugo Bezdek, a former All-American player under Stagg at Chicago University, will pay tribute to his former coach at a rally in the university gymnasium.

Then comes the Upsala-Susquehanna homecoming football game Saturday afternoon, dedicated to Stagg, who is now helping his son, Amos Alonzo Stagg, Jr., coach the Susquehanna team.

The celebration will be climaxed by a testimonial dinner Saturday night to which many of the nation's top coaches have been invited.

Stagg said more players are being injured today than in the Gridiron's early days.

"There was more passing then and none of the vicious blocking of today. Brute strength, some speed and not much deception seems to be the rule today but there's a backward swing to the 'T' formation which I helped start at Chicago with my man in motion years ago."

Stagg started coaching at Springfield college in Massachusetts in 1890. He spent 41 years at the helm of the Chicago university team until an age ruling forced him to resign. In 1933 he moved over to the college of the Pacific and then to Susquehanna to join his son in 1947.

Negro Wins 2nd Extradition Fight With Mississippi

Chicago, Oct. 19.—(P)—Johnnie Catchings, 44, a negro packing plant employe, today won his second fight against extradition to Mississippi to face trial on a murder charge.

Catchings was freed in 1944 on a habeas corpus writ by Federal District Judge Elwyn R. Shaw.

In May of this year, while Catchings was serving a six-months jail sentence for assault, a second request for his extradition was sent to Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson. The governor announced Monday he had refused to sign an extradition warrant, and Catchings was freed in felony court today.

The case stemmed from the slaying of a deputy sheriff in 1943 at Hazlehurst in Copiah county, Miss.

Tells Surgeons To Be On Lookout For Small Fractures

Chicago, Oct. 19.—(P)—Watch out, you don't overlook those "bedroom" and "dancing" fractures of the feet in your patients, members of the American college of surgeons were advised tonight.

If overlooked and untreated as fractures, "such apparent minor fractures can and do give later local 'misery of the foot' declared Dr. Otto J. Hermann, a fracture specialist of Harvard Medical school and Boston City Hospital.

He defined a "bedroom fracture" as a fracture of the toes—ostensibly a hazard of arising in a darkened bedroom to let the cat in or, in a doctor's case, one of stumbling toward the telephone to answer a 4 a.m. call.

He described a "dancing fracture" as a chipping of the bone at the base of the outermost bone of the arch of the foot.

TOLL ROAD FUNDS APPROVED

Washington, Oct. 19.—(P)—The Senate approved yesterday an appropriation of $150,000 to survey the possibility of a toll road along the Mississippi river.

The provision, part of the supplemental appropriations bill, previously had been approved by the House but with some differences from the form in which it was passed by the Senate.

Oxford, England, Oct. 19.—(P)—After due consideration, Oxford university coxswains have accepted a challenge to row a boat race against the Cambridge university coxswains.

The match is set for Saturday. Cambridge issued the challenge 18 years ago.

NOTED MINING ENGINEER DIES

San Francisco, Oct. 19.—(P)—John W. Mercer, widely known as a mining engineer in this country and South America, died yesterday. He was 85.

A native of Michigan, Mercer was director of the South American Mines Co., with headquarters in New York, and vice-president of Kelowna Exploration Co., Ltd., of British Columbia.

For 25 years he was an active operator of gold mines in Ecuador.

TEA AND CRUMPETS—Jockey Johnny Longden is accorded a greeting of tea and crumpets, served by waiter Kid North, at Bay Meadows on return from vacation in his native England. The American champion liked the treatment at the San Mateo, Calif. track, went out to boot home his first mount on top.

Jerseyville Footballers Lead Ivy League; Four Teams Tie For Second

By Bill Chipman

Jerseyville's well-balanced Panther aggregation took over top spot on the Illinois Valley conference football totem pole when they blasted White Hall 61-0 last Friday night. The Jerseyvites, with three straight wins, are the only unbeaten club in the league.

Four elevens, Pittsfield, Greenfield, Carrollton and Roodhouse, have suffered but one defeat. Greenfield and Carrollton both sustained losses in the hands of Jerseyville.

By Bob Morris

"Home Town Boy Makes Good" is undoubtedly lingering like quinine in the mouths of some 3700 loyal Taylorville basketball fans who turned out en masse to see Johnny Orr perform with the St. Louis Bombers in his home town Tuesday night. Johnny, who led the 1944 Tornado prep to 44 straight wins and a state crown, was allowed to start the contest, but jerked after two minutes of play when it became apparent that he wasn't ready to perform with the big boys.

He's a nice kid, but maybe that's the answer. He's just a kid. Graduated in '44, hmmm. Makes him about 23 years old and he looks younger. He is possibly too immature to gallop about on the boards with the seasoned veterans that he'll give with in pro basketball. Give him two years of bench-warming and all central Illinois will again hear the name of Johnny Orr shouted from basketball galleries.

A brand new college graduate who's sure to catch on in this, his first year of play-for-pay, is Dike Eddleman who is on the Moline Blackhawk payroll. Dike, who did about everything athletically that there was to do while matriculating at the University of Illinois, played almost the entire game and wasn't even breathing hard when the two clubs wound up the five-minute overtime session which ended with the Blackhaws leading 77-72.

Ed Macauley, St. Louis U. stand-out for the past few years, will be a fixture in the Bomber lineup for some years to come. Macauley, whose basketball playing runs second only to his public speaking, was the pivot wheel in the Bomber offense and sparked equally on defense as he held Boyling Green's Don Otten—who is considerably bigger than Easy Ed—to six thin points.

Harry Combes—Eddleman's tutor at the U. of I.—was among the recognized celebrities at the game. His presence led one fan to query "I wonder if he's down here spotting talent for his collegiate club?" The "experts" they let sit in the press gallery!

Taylorville's pride in Johnny Orr wasn't all that was punctured Tuesday night. Enroute home from the game Lee Ogile, Wayne Combes, Jimmy Carl, Fred and Don Reynolds and yours truly got a big bang when two—not one but two—tires blew out. There we were, 25 miles from nowhere and not a street car in sight. A good Samaritan finally stopped and offered his services, enabling us to limp home at 3 o'clock in the morning.

A fence made out of shrubbery of any sort is known as a "living fence." One of the oldest is the hedge, whose sharp barbs kept animals in as well as out.

Bucky Harris Inks Pact To Lead Nats From Last Place

Washington, Oct. 19.—(P)—Bucky Harris, who twice previously was fired as manager of the Washington Senators, today signed to manage the team for the next three years.

Clark Griffith, president of the Senators, made the announcement.

It was back in 1924 that Griffith first put Harris—then known as the "Boy Wonder"—in as manager. He won two pennants in a row, and lasted five years. In 1935, Griffith hired Harris again. This time he stayed eight years.

By returning to Washington, Harris becomes the first man in major league history to manage the same club three different times.

Sandwiched around his stretches in Washington were jobs with Detroit, the Boston Red Sox, the Philadelphia Phillies and the New York Yankees.

Harris led the Yanks to a world championship in 1947, but was let out in 1948 even though his team was only two and a half games behind the champion Cleveland Indians.

He spent the past season with San Diego of the Pacific Coast league. His team finished fourth, and went to the finals in the playoff.

As usual, Griffith was shy when asked to be specific about money. But it is believed Harris' salary will be around $25,000 a year.

Independent Cage Teams Will Meet To Plan League

The Jacksonville Y.M.C.A. has called a meeting of independent basketball teams for 7:30 o'clock tonight to discuss plans for a winter league. The meeting will be held in the Y clubrooms.

Problems that will come under consideration at the session will include procuring a gymnasium, finances and officials.

Twelve teams were involved in a tentative league last season. Those teams, who have already voiced their desire to be a part of a similar organization this winter, were White Hall, Waverly, Meredosia, Bluffs, Murrayville, Winchester, Jacksonville Nesco, K. of C. Allens Dairy and two fives from Illinois College. Several more entries are anticipated.

Paul Hartman, secretary of the Y, will preside at the meeting.

Pick Michigan, Illini, Northwestern To Win

By Charles Chamberlain

Chicago, Oct. 19.—(P)—Going into the weekly trance and coming up with—

Michigan 17 Minnesota 14—This one is strictly from hunger. . . . The proud Gophers have had to get keyed for Northwestern and Ohio State in succession. . . . It will be hard to get them so high for a third time, even for such a bitter foe as Michigan which has whipped Minnesota, but good, six straight. . . . Look for the Wolverines to bounce back from two defeats with a snappy passing attack (for a change) to pull a major upset and scramble the Big 10 football picture.

Ohio State 20 Wisconsin 14—The Badgers and their flock of classy sophomores are improving by leaps and bounds—so much so they could surprise in this one like they did in trouncing Navy 48-13. . . . There is likely to be a let down by the Buckeyes after being buried by Minnesota.

Northwestern 27 Iowa 20—This easily could be another close one. . . . And Indiana and a loss to Illinois, have arrived at the upset phase. The Hawkeyes, after wins over Purdue, Northwestern, riding high with a 21-20 win over Michigan, will have to stay in high gear to pull through.

Illinois 19 Purdue 13—The Illini still are unbeaten in conference action with a victory over Iowa and a deadlock with Wisconsin. . . . If the Illini can get over the first half jitters and play last half ball the entire game, they will be tough for any team. . . . On Paper, Purdue rates more than a one touchdown underdog. . . . But Coach Stu Holcomb is in a good spot to spring a surprise. . . .

Purdue May Click Against Illinois Says Chuck Purvis

Champaign, Ill. — "A potentially fine football team which may click any week" will be opponent of the Illini at Lafayette, Ind., at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

That description is supplied by Backfield Coach Chuck Purvis who has scouted Stu Holcomb's current Boilermaker club which has won but one of four starts this season.

"Purdue, like Illinois, has had trouble finding itself, but the margin is there for a winner," Purvis said. "Besides that Saturday's game is Purdue Homecoming and we'll have to be at our best to have a chance."

Purvis rates the Purdue backfield a sound combination, now that Harry Szulborski has recovered from a leg ailment. Szulborski has always been tough on the Illini, who will work this week on stopping the power drives which he and Norb Adams originate.

Another Boilermaker who may give the Illini trouble is John Kerestes, big junior fullback from Streator, Ill., who has led Purdue rushing statistics all season.

Besides stopping this ground power, Illinois will meet a good passing attack with Ken Gorgal and Bob Hartman doing the pitching, Purvis reports.

Purdue's line is classed as big, fast, and rugged. "With several new men among the forwards, Purdue has made costly mistakes in early games, but look for them to get really tough at any time," Purvis reported.

The Illini rested Monday from a marathon scoring battle with Missouri which the Tigers won 27-20, but heavy work will be on tap for Tuesday and Wednesday.

The team will travel by bus to Lafayette Friday and will be quartered at the Purdue Union.

Max Hill, Former AP Correspondent, Found Dead in Bed

Elkhart, Ind., Oct. 19.—(P)—The long newspaper and radio career of Max Hill, 45-year-old former Associated Press correspondent and news commentator, ended with his death Monday in a hotel room here.

The body of Hill, an executive with the Wade Advertising Agency at Chicago, was en route to Denver, Colo., today for burial there Friday.

Hill was found dead in his bed at the Elkhart Hotel Monday afternoon by hotel employes. Dr. B. F. Kintner, Elkhart county coroner, said Hill died of acute coronary occlusion, a circulatory ailment.

The former newsmen, who was Associated Press chief of bureau at Tokyo when the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941, was here on a business trip for the advertising firm.

Hill recently had been transferred to the Chicago office of the Wade Company from New York, where he joined the firm.

Hill, longtime city editor of the Denver Post, joined the Associated Press in 1934. He was chief of the New York bureau before his appointment in 1940 as bureau chief at Tokyo. After the Pearl Harbor attack he was interned by the Japanese until June 2, 1942.

He joined the National Broadcasting Company in 1943 and reported the war until 1945. He later served as news commentator.

Congressman Says Pork Producers Should Talk More

Washington, Oct. 19.—(P)—Hog raisers should talk more, says Rep. Thomas E. Martin (R-Ia.).

They need more discussion among themselves of their problems, he said today.

And, Martin added hog producers need to keep congress better posted on their troubles.

The Iowa whose district leads the nation in hog-raising, says the pork producers should be better organized.

The house and senate agriculture committees, he told a reporter, would like more first-hand information about the hog situation.

Martin recalled the hog cholera epidemic which killed many swine in Iowa last June and July.

The agriculture department, he said, now is intensifying its study of hog cholera.

If more researchers and experiments are needed, Martin said, then congress should be informed so that money can be appropriated which the agriculture department can use.

TV TOUGH FOR ACTOR
New York—(AP)—Acting for television is the thespian's toughest assignment yet, say those who have tried such mediums as stage, screen and radio.
Television is the most difficult, they explain, because an actor must learn a complete script, go through a performance without a stop, and, if he makes a mistake, must work his way out the best he can.
In the movies, only a few lines need be learned at a time as scenes generally are taken section by section. On the stage, the actor learns his part once and then keeps doing it over and over. And on the radio, all he needs do is to read the script with the proper vocal embellishments.
Trees make faces in the Fall. When the leaves drop off, the remaining scars show life-like faces, with eyes, nose and mouth.

Chairman of the Ladies Night program was Warren Breeding, who introduced the speaker. Rev. STORAGE FOR 67,340 BUSHELS OF SCOTT CORN

This line of 20 recently erected aluminum bins is the new home for a lot of surplus corn in Scott county.

The bins shown comprise one of the three lines located just out of Winchester on the Alsey road. The contractor in charge of their erection was Russell Mason of Murrayville.

Other new storage near Winchester for this year's unusual carry-over is situated on the west side of town and east of the highway to Alsey.

To erect a steel bin you have to start at the bottom.

Forty concrete blocks and a half block are used to outline the 18 foot diameter base of a 2,500 bushel bin. Then eight tons of gravel fill the circle. The gravel slopes slightly to the outside and it's covered with two semi-circular pieces of sheet steel.

Shown laying the floor of a bin at Murrayville are Link Cowdin, Jim Brown and Jack Ryan. Fred Landes is standing at the left and Raymond (Red) Dandies pauses at his gravel scooping to inspect the work.

It takes about seven man-days to erect this type of bin.

New Grain Bins Going Up, But Farmers Fret

By the Journal Courier Farm Editor

Government estimators say there's 800,000,000 bushels of old corn in the country. That's a lot of corn, but the figure is probably pretty accurate. For there's a lot of it, over 900,000 bushels right here in Morgan county.

That much corn would fill three bins the size of the Farmers Bank building and the overrun would fill the Penney building just north of it. This immense volume, the county's largest, indicates today's storage problem.

The Commodity Credit corporation gained possession of so much corn this way. The government guaranteed producers of corn 90% of parity. Parity is the formula designed to give producers a fair exchange of what they sell and what they buy. Ninety percent of this figure was set as a fair loan value, or $1.42 a bushel.

Price Trend Down

If the price of corn went higher the producer could sell the grain on the open market and pay off his loan. If the market didn't hit that figure the C.C.C. agreed to accept the corn as full payment of the loan on Sept. 1.

Corn prices never advanced to $1.42. It's about a dollar now. So on Sept. 1 the C.C.C. owned a lot of corn. But didn't have anyplace to put it.

Altogether there were 1,040,000 bushels of Morgan county corn pledged against loans, or entered in purchase agreements. Under the latter plan the government didn't advance any funds, but guaranteed the producer $1.42 a bushel.

Some of this total has been diminished one way or the other, but the government owns at least 90% of the corn pledged.

Home Storage Boom Fails

Government agencies tried, pretty much in vain, to get the farmers to build additional storage space—to resell the corn. The government offered to loan up to 85% of the cost of new structures. But compliance was very thin.

There are several reasons for this. There are certain hazards connected with the storage of any grain and not many farmers are willing to accept the responsibilities of keeping a crop through more than one season.

And then there is the assessor and tax collector. Farmers doubt the wisdom of paying taxes next year on last year's crop. Envelopes of stocks and bonds may elude the assessor, and usually does, but anybody can spot a crib full of corn.

Crib Full and Harvest Time

Since Sept. 1 the stored corn technically has been the C.C.C.'s baby, but actually it's been everybody's. No matter how much corn you have in the field, or how dry it is, you can't harvest it if your crib is jammed to the gills with corn owned by somebody else.

This situation has developed a new crop: bins and tanks and granaries of all descriptions are sprouting out all over the Cornbelt. The various agencies got off to a rather belated start and the steel strike threw a real monkeywrench into the cogs, but the bins, more than enough to take care of the surplus corn, are here. Many of them are already erected and more are going up every day. A lot of corn has already been moved. Progress has been good, but not fast enough to satisfy anybody who has a field of A-1 corn ready for harvest.

Six Bin Sites

The bins, steel, aluminum or wood, are being erected at six country points. Murrayville's bins will take care of 92 thousand bushels; Chapin, 134; Prentice, 128; Strawn Crossing, 66; Franklin 66; Pisgah, 230; Orleans, 151.

In addition, if and when the steel strike ends, Morgan county will get 10 Quonset type bins. Each hold 40,000 bushels. The concrete bases for these large structures were finished some time ago, but the steel strike killed production, and delivery.

"We'll have plenty of space for all stored corn, and room to spare," Wallace T. Hembrough, county AAA chairman, said Wednesday. "But it will take time to get the bins up and we can only ask the farmers to be patient."

Virginia Jaycees Arrange Details Of Corn Festival

Virginia—At the regular meeting of the Virginia Jaycees in the Legion Hall on Tuesday evening it was decided to have a free square dance on Saturday evening, Nov. 5, starting at 8 p.m. in conjunction with the Jaycee Corn Festival.

This dance will take place on the north side of the Virginia public square. A good band and several callers are being contacted by Glen Wankel, chairman of the entertainment committee.

The Junior class of the Virginia Community high school will be in charge of the hot dogs and elder concessions.

The local Jaycees and several high school students are planning to start off this festival by testing their ability and endurance in cleaning a field on Saturday, Oct. 22.

This is to be a trial run and the best of results are not expected, but it is hoped it will give the participants an idea of the work necessary and the amount of corn possible to glean from an acre. Anyone interested in helping these energetic fellows are asked to meet at the Hotel Coffee Shop and from there they will proceed to the field selected for this event.

A temporary crib is to be erected on the square where some of the corn will be stored. The rest will be taken direct to the elevator. Anyone wishing to donate to this crib of corn may do so at any time, and especially on Nov. 5. Free will offerings will be taken at the dance.
